

'Badgerbrook Books' news

Welcome to the fourth 'Badgerbrook books' newsletter. Each term we will keep you updated with reading activities at Badgerbrook.

Keep reading!

Thank you for all your pictures of reading and book recommendations! I have just finished 'The Boy at the Back of the Class' by Onjali Q Rauf (I know some of 5DN have enjoyed this one!) and also 'The Bubble Boy' by Stewart Foster. Both brilliant and suitable for Key Stage Two. I'm going to read some new Key Stage One books next so look out for them next time!

David Walliams daily

David Walliams is still reading daily at 11am from his many great books. They will be available after he reads them for thirty days. Take a break and listen to a story in the sunshine.

Don't forget, especially Key Stage One, that you can log on free to Oxford Owls website and access and read lots of book band books. They even read to you!

Phonics Key Stage One

Remember to check out Ruth Miskin (Read Write Inc phonics) on YouTube. There are lots of sounds and daily sessions to use when you can or want to. If you go to Ruthmiskin.com there is a section for school closure that directs you there.

Author of the month and book of the week at Badgerbrook

This month I am nominating a website – lovereading4kids.co.uk

Here you can find recommendations for all age groups and new titles are here when released. Have a look and find a new book!

Oaty biscuit recipe (excellent to eat when reading)

75g wholemeal flour, 1tsp baking powder, 75g porridge oats, 50g caster sugar, 75g butter, 1tbsp golden syrup and 2 tbsp milk. Heat the oven to 180c and line a baking tray. In a bowl add flour, baking powder, porridge oats and sugar. Melt the butter, syrup and milk. Combine together. Spoon onto a baking tray, shape in to rounds, leave space as they will spread when cooking! Bake for 10-15 minutes or until golden brown. Leave to cool for 5 minutes before removing from the tray.

Book and Biscuit sessions

The library is feeling pretty empty right now! Why not enjoy your own book and biscuit session at home? You could even make some delicious biscuits! (The recipe above is very simple and quite healthy!) Send us a photo!

Keep reading and keep sending us some photos!
