

'Badgerbrook Books' news

Welcome to the fifth 'Badgerbrook books' newsletter. Each term we will keep you updated with reading activities at Badgerbrook.

Keep reading!

'Not Now Bernard' is celebrating 40 years with a special edition out now. It is still a big favourite! I have also enjoyed reading Rain Boy by Dylan Glynn. It is a new book that fits our 'No Outsiders' ethos perfectly!

Summer Reading Challenge 2020

Due to the current situation, libraries have decided to take this year's reading challenge on-line. Badgerbrook will be taking part as we do every year. Let's see if we can win and read the most!

Phonics Key Stage One

Remember to continue to check out Ruth Miskin (Read Write Inc phonics) on You Tube. There are lots of sounds and daily sessions to use when you can or want to. If you go to Ruthmiskin.com there is a section for school closure that directs you there.

Author of the month and book of the week at Badgerbrook

This month I wanted to let you know about some books we are buying to support our children when they all return to school after this pandemic. Letterbox books have selected 14 books to support children and their well-being and mental health. Andrew Moffat (No Outsiders project) has written us 14 lesson plans to go with the books.

BAME (Black, Asian and Minority Ethnic) books

Being a 'No Outsiders' school we already try to have books that represent all our children in school. We are excited to be able to buy more from new recommendations.

These are just a few!

Extreme Reading!

It has been a few years since we had an extreme reading challenge at Badgerbrook so it's time for another!

The library is feeling pretty empty right now! Why not enjoy your own book at home over the Summer and take a photo of you reading somewhere different/exciting/interesting! Bring it in after the Summer and we can see them all. Prizes will be awarded!

The Book of Hopes

Katherine Rundell has put together a book of hopes. It is a collection from 110 authors and is free to download. It is words and pictures to comfort, entertain and inspire children during lockdown.
